Standards Addressed in Unit

One of the benefits of a cross-curricular project-based approach is that multiple standards can be addressed at once. Some of the Common Core State history Standards addressed in the Exploring Rhetoric in Politics through Project Based Learning and Technology unit include the following: identifying aspects of a text that reveal an author's point of view or purpose, such as loaded language, inclusion or avoidance of particular facts (RH.6-8.6); integrating visual information such as charts, graphs, photographs, videos, or maps with other information in print and digital text (RH.6-8.7); and distinguishing among fact, opinion, and reasoned judgment in a text (RH.6-8.8).

In addition, key English language arts standards include: introducing claim(s), acknowledging and distinguishing the claim(s) from alternate or opposing claims, and organizing the reasons and evidence logically (W.8.1.a); analyzing the purpose of information presented in diverse media and formats and evaluate the motives behind its presentation (ELA-Literacy.SL.8.2); delineating a speaker's argument and specific claims, evaluating the soundness of the reasoning (ELA-Literacy.SL.8.3); and integrating multimedia and visual displays into presentations to clarify information, strengthen claims and evidence, and adding interest (SL.8.5).

Rhetoric in Politics Unit Plan

Blocked Language Arts and Social Studies class: 100 minutes

Schedule	Unit Plan	Lesson Details	CA CCSS Addressed
Day 1	Rhetoric lesson: ELA	Students take notes on the three types of rhetoric: Ethos (authority, character, ethics), Logos (logic, reason, statistics), and Pathos (emotions).
Day 2	Campaign Ads - Whole Group	Journal: Still pictures of campaign banners interpreted for use of each style of rhetorical device
	Democratic vs Republican	Appropriate websites compiled onto teacher created Sqwirl.com list. Using a notes sheet, students research each side's major views on military, gun control laws, abortion, gay rights, death penalty, taxes, minimum wage, role of government, foreign policy, immigration, and civil rights.
Day 3	Conservative or Liberal	Discuss additional layer of Right-wing Conservative versus Left-wing Liberal and the extremist possibility of each in different contexts

		- social, economic and political. Discuss additional layer of Right-wing Conservative versus Left-wing Liberal and the extremist possibility of each in different contexts - social, economic and political. Students will understand that there are many nuances to political preference and someone could be an economically conservative-Democrat or a socially liberal-Republican.
	Self determination	Students are individually asked to determine the issues that are most important to them and decide their political and social affiliation at this time in their lives.
Day 4	Campaign Commercial transcripts &amp; videos	Groups of four students assigned to one teacher created Google.doc “The Living Room Candidate: Presidential Campaign Commercials 1952-2012” Directions: identify if the ad is for or against the Republican/Democrat party. Identify at least ONE form of rhetoric (ethos, logos, or pathos) in each ad and explain by inserting a comment. Next, the accompanying video related to the ad transcript is played and students add at least ONE more example of rhetoric. Make sure you use all three forms at least once.

Day 4-5	Small groups assigned a current political candidate	Group will create a video or live-action campaign ad for or against a candidate. Make sure you include at least three obvious rhetorical devices in your presentation. Explain in the table below how you will use certain words and images in your ad to persuade. This should be about 3 minutes long. See rubric. Political Campaign Focus/Pro or Anti Candidate:                      Script of commercial: Will you do voice-over narration, acting out a town hall meeting moment, graphics, images, first-person speech, or community interviews? Write a brief script of your ad using Power-Words and adjectives.
Day 6	Research candidate online on their official websites	Utilize original Sqwirl of teacher approved sites to find official campaign website for their candidate (PBL would suggest student choice here but I wanted class to see a wide variety of candidates. Each group assigned a different campaign ad focus:

		<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Pro Donald Trump / Anti Donald Trump</li> <li>• Pro Ted Cruz / Anti Ted Cruz</li> <li>• Pro Marco Rubio / Anti Marco Rubio</li> <li>• Pro Hillary Clinton / Anti Hillary Clinton</li> <li>• Pro Bernie Sanders / Anti Bernie Sanders</li> <li>• Pro Martin O'Malley / Anti Martin O'Malley</li> </ul>
	Assign group roles	Group Responsibilities: Everyone must participate and explain exactly what they did. This project will be peer/teacher evaluated. Choose and list participation roles below, and at the end of the project each person will comment on how the person succeeded at their role. The Facilitator, The Recorder, The Summarizer, The Presenter Includes: Final Peer Evaluation How successful do you think your overall presentation was? Would you have done anything differently if you had more time or resources? Did viewers clearly understand your Political Campaign Focus/Audience?

Day 6-8	Create transcript and storyboard	Students write a 3-5 minute campaign ad for or against their assigned candidate, filming storyboard is used to plan where rhetoric will be inserted. Music and narration is encouraged
Day 8-9	Revision	Students Student groups show they presentation to another small group and gain feedback based on how well they get their specific message across.
Day 10-11	Final presentation assessment and audience participation	During final Movie Maker, Google Slide, or PowerPoint commercial presentation by student groups, audience identifies types of rhetoric they see. Comments are blogged onto classroom blog Edmodo.com (or Todaysmeet.com, or Google Classroom)

Project Handout 1

Title: The Living Room Candidate, Presidential Campaign Commercials 1952-2012

Essential Question: What techniques do politicians use to convince you of the validity of their positions?

Directions: Identify if the ad is for or against the Republican/Democrat party. Identify at least ONE form of rhetoric (ethos, logos, or pathos) in each ad and explain by inserting a comment. Once you view the commercial, add at least ONE more example. Make sure you use all three forms at least once.

Example of commercial transcript from site:

2008 OBAMA VS. MCCAIN

"Country I Love," Obama, 2008

OBAMA: I'm Barack Obama.

[TEXT: Barack Obama]

OBAMA: America's a country of strong families, and strong values. My life's been blessed by both. I was raised by a single mom and my grandparents. We didn't have much money, but they taught me values straight from the Kansas Heartland where they grew up. Accountability and self-reliance. Love of country. Working hard without making excuses. Treating your neighbor as you'd like to be treated. It's what guided me as I worked my way up, taking jobs and loans to make it through college. It's what led me to pass up Wall Street jobs and go to Chicago instead, helping neighborhoods devastated when steel plants closed. That's why I passed laws moving people from welfare to work.

[TEXT: Moved people from welfare to work]

OBAMA [and TEXT]: Cut taxes for working families.

OBAMA: Extended health care for wounded troops who'd been neglected.

[TEXT: Extended health care for wounded troops]

OBAMA: I approved this message because I'll never forget those values. And if I have the honor of taking the oath of office as President, it will be with a deep and abiding faith in the country I love.

Title: Campaign Ads: Pro or Con?

Directions: One person in your team will make a COPY of the Google Doc. S/he will SHARE with their team and allow COMMENTS. The team will decide the group roles and brainstorm ways to create a campaign ad for or against a candidate. Make sure you read directions carefully and be prepared to present a convincing ad!

In your group, you will create a video or live-action campaign ad for or against a candidate. Make sure you include at least three obvious rhetorical devices in your presentation. Explain in the table below how you will use certain words and images in your ad to persuade. This should be about 3 minutes long. See rubric.

Political Campaign Focus/Pro or Anti Candidate: _____

Script of commercial: Will you do voice-over narration, acting out a town hall meeting moment, graphics, images, first-person speech, and/or community interviews? Write a brief script of your ad using Power-Words and exciting adjectives. Identify how you will use Ethos (authority), Logos (reason), and Pathos (emotion).

Group Responsibilities: Everyone must participate and explain in the box exactly what they did. This will be peer/teacher evaluated. Choose and list participation roles below, and at the end of the project each person will comment on how the person succeeded at their role.

Appendix C

Project Handout 3

Title: Democrat or Republican?

Directions: Let's learn more about today's politics. What are the differences between Democrats and Republicans, and Liberals and Conservatives? Use the Democrat_or_Republican Sqwirl (<http://sqworl.com/1gjxlk>) to fill in the missing issues. Paste the URL under the issues where you found your information. Then, choose six issues that you feel are the most important and move them onto your Google slide. Finally, choose one question to give a personal response in 1st person (I, me, my). Write as passionately about the question as you can by using powerful adjectives, comparisons, and/or examples.
